

At these events we host 900-2000 folks. Lil has been, like previous mentioned events, able to plan the menus, find cooks, servers and clean up help with little to no problems. If any problems do arise Lil is not one who calls it quits; she regroupes and handles those situations with great pride and dignity. Again cost is always something we have to look at and each time Lil is able to make the dollar stretch without cutting quality.

When it comes to integrity you can find no better than Lil Smith. I deal with a large budget in my ministry and must account for monies spent to the church family each quarter. In order to have a successful event I must find leadership that I can entrust large amounts of money. Lil is always at the top of the list, she is always willing to research and find the best buy of anything; whether that is in the way of food or decorations. I know of ministers who serve at other churches who don't look forward to planning and carrying out events that deal with feeding the masses, however, I am one who does as long as I have Lil Smith in my corner.
